di Perle

WHY SHOULD YOU TRY A GOCCE DI PERLE WINE?

THERE IS NOT ENOUGH TO GO AROUND
For over fifteen years, inspired by an economy "of choice" rather than of scale, we have been producing fine wines that fully express the soul of our grapes, with their olfactory and tasty notes, using the latest available quality control and conservation technologies.

NO "TENSION HEADACHE"
An effective microbiological and oxygen management, which includes the stabilization of small lots in 50/100 hectoliter autoclaves and rigorous hygiene of machinery and equipment, allows us to preserve the organoleptic characteristics of each wine whilst limiting the use of sulphites in winemaking.

NATURE VIBES
We carry out manual operations in the vineyard and hand harvesting, using techniques developed over the centuries by local winemakers, which not only ensure a positive impact on biodiversity between the rows, but also enable focused interventions on the plants and careful selection of the grapes during harvest.

NO WAITING
Using oenological systems designed on the basis of a gradual harvest avoids the risk of compromising the integrity of the bunches and breaking down their delicate aromas, which could occur during stops and transport of large quantities of harvested fruit.

AD HOC PLANNING
We have chosen to bottle and package upon request, so that our oenologist can consistently follow a protocol that leaves nothing to chance, thus increasing the natural resistance of the wines to oxidation and protecting their stability over time.
